PINK GIN & TONICS

In 1825, British officers stationed in India started to mix medicinal bitters with their daily ration of quinine tonic.

Comprising of an exotic mixture of herbs, roots and spices, these 'Pink Gins' stimulated heat faded appetites and acted as treatment for all ailments.

All our 'Pink Gins' are made with house bitters, large gins and quinine tonics.

PUNCHES

Deriving from the sanskrit word 'panch', meaning five, as the drink was originally made with five ingredients: alcohol, sugar, lemon, water, and tea or spices.

Punch was brought to England in the 17th century from India by sailors and employees of the British East India Company.

All our punches are served well iced and with spice.
