Porter's Tropical Old Tom Gin, Grapefruit Sherbet,
Lime, Campari, Sabro Hops

The Pegu Club was a refreshing cocktail served at the officers' social club on the Pegu river in Burma in the 1920s. Our homage amplifies the drink's sub-tropical citrus notes with guava & passionfruit distilled gin, and bursts with flavours of coconut, mango & lychee.

CLUB COCKTAILS

The quintessential drink of the well-heeled in India during the Raj era, when a mixture of cold gin and lime cordial was an important 'tonic' to combat the heat whilst socialising on club verandas. We swap the lime for cold brewed jasmine tea, sweetened with blossom honey, and fresh cucumber cordial.

INDIAN WHISKY

The drinking of Scotch style whisky was introduced to India in the 19th century. With such high-quality grain being grown in the Punjab region it was only a matter of time before India started producing its own whisky. Amrut was the first commercial whisky distillery to export its product, and now India is home to several excellent distilleries. The Indian malt has its own distinctive flavour, it delivers a wonderful rich biscuity note.
